Decolonizing Liberation Theologies Nicolás Panotto, Luis Martínez Andrade, 2023-07-11 The publication of this volume marks the Ten Year Anniversary of the Postcolonialism and Religions series. In intersectional and interdisciplinary perspectives, the chapters of this book constitute a complex whole: a volume that does justice to the justice-seeking origins of Latin American Liberation Theology, philosophy, and sociology as it emerged in the 1960s-70s and its development to the present. What drives this book is a common spirit and conviction: Liberation Theologies of the Global South remain relevant to the sociocultural and geopolitical contexts of today, which remain ensconced in the dynamics, exclusions, and resistances that gave rise to Liberation Theologies six decades ago. Today we may speak of interculturality, of borderlands, of in-betweenness, in ways that complicate, confirm, affirm, and interrogate the “underside of history”, and the spaces that are marginalized but de-centered centers of liberation struggle — within, alongside, underneath, over-against societal projects that claim and exclude them, and that represent some of the actual challenges and opportunities to liberation.

Social Movements and Latin American Philosophy Luis Rubén Díaz Cepeda, 2020-10-07 Social Movements and Latin American Philosophy: From Ciudad Juárez to Ayotzinapa provides a historical and theoretical analysis of the Ayotzinapa social movement from the perspective of Latin American philosophy to provide a deeper understanding of the challenges that social movements face in the context of extreme violence. Luis Rubén Díaz Cepeda analyzes the complete cycle of mobilization appertaining to Ciudad Juárez, the Movement for Peace with Justice and Dignity, and the Ayotzinapa social movement. Guided by the theories of Enrique Dussel, Boaventura de Sousa Santos, Ernesto Laclau, and Santiago Castro-Gomez, Díaz Cepeda addresses questions of how a social movement is born, how the distinct social movement organizations should articulate to form a movement of movements, what (if at all) the limits and extent of these organizations should be. In raising and addressing such questions, Díaz Cepeda argues in favor of a soft articulation and the perennial need for social movement organizations. Scholars of Latin American studies, philosophy, history, and sociology will find this book particularly useful.

Liberating People, Planet, and Religion Joerg Rieger, Terra Rowe, 2024-05-29 There is growing consensus that life on the planet is in peril if climate change continues at its current pace. At stake is not only the future of many species but of humanity itself. As an increasing number of ecological economists have emphasized, these problems will only be adequately addressed by re-examining economic systems from an ecological perspective, fundamentally calling into question assumptions of unlimited growth and the maximization of shareholder profit foundational to neoliberal capitalism. Religion and ecology scholars have also increasingly emphasized the ways climate change challenges assumed divides between nature and culture, religion and labor, economy and ecology, and calls for critical and constructive engagement with the religion, economy, and ecology nexus. Often, though, religious engagements with economy and ecology have placed emphasis on individual morality, action, and agency at the level of consumption patterns or have suggested mere modifications within existing economic paradigms. Contributors to this volume call into question the adequacy of this approach in light of the urgency of climate change which is always ever entwined with ongoing patterns of exploitation, oppression, and colonialism in current economic systems. Rather than tweaking a system of exploitation, for instance by emphasizing individual consumption or care for human and non-human victims, these authors articulate important opportunities for religious engagement, activism, resistance, and solidarity around issues of production and labor. Recalling that Marx linked agencies and labor of people as well as the other-than-human world, these authors aim to articulate a sense in which liberation of people and the planet are intertwined and can be accomplished only through collaboration for their common good. The basic intuition driving this volume is that while Christianity has by and large become the handmaiden of exploitative capitalism and empire, it might also reclaim latent theologies and religious practices that call into question the fundamental valuation of labor without recognition or rest, of extractive exploitation, and a “winner take all” praxis. In the process, Christianity might reclaim and reinvest in tenuous historical materializations of transformed ecological and economic relationships while economics might be re-informed by a valuation of the shared oikos as well as a just accounting of and remuneration for labor. Together they might serve the aim of the flourishing of all people and the planet.

The Politics of Decolonial Investigations Walter D. Mignolo, 2021-07-09 In The Politics of Decolonial Investigations Walter D. Mignolo provides a sweeping examination of how coloniality has operated around the world in its myriad forms from the sixteenth century to the twenty-first. Decolonial border thinking allows Mignolo to outline how the combination of the self-fashioned narratives of Western civilization and the hegemony of Eurocentric thought served to eradicate all knowledges in non-European languages and praxes of living and being. Mignolo also traces the geopolitical origins of racialized and gendered classifications, modernity, globalization, and cosmopolitanism, placing them all within the framework of coloniality. Drawing on the work of theorists and decolonial practitioners from the Global South and the Global East, Mignolo shows how coloniality has provoked the emergence of decolonial politics initiated by delinking from all forms of Western knowledge and subjectivities. The urgent task, Mignolo stresses, is the epistemic reconstitution of categories of thought and praxes of living destituted in the very process of building Western civilization and the idea of modernity. The overcoming of the long-lasting hegemony of the West and its distorted legacies is already underway in all areas of human existence. Mignolo underscores the relevance of the politics of decolonial investigations, in and outside the academy, to liberate ourselves from canonized knowledge, ways of knowing, and praxes of living.

Machado de Assis, Blackness, and the Americas Vanessa K. Valdés, Earl E. Fitz, 2024-08-01 Considered a genius in his own lifetime, Joaquim Maria Machado de Assis (1839-1908) is Brazil's most canonized writer. Yet, he remains a contested and even enigmatic figure to readers in Brazil and abroad, his relative silence on slavery leaving him vulnerable to charges of aspirations to whiteness. Machado de Assis, Blackness, and the Americas reconsiders this issue by exploring how his prose fiction has been received in the United States. In seven original essays, contributors re-examine his novels and short stories, as well as photographs of the writer, in order to better understand the strategies he employed to navigate Brazil's literary scene as a man of African descent. Framed by a contextualizing introduction and an afterword in the form of a conversation between the editors, the volume speaks to and with our own historical moment and the realities of Black lives in the Americas over the course of the last two centuries.

Bridging the Interpretive Abyss Luis Menéndez-Antuña, 2025-04-04 As readers and interpreters, how might our understanding of the New Testament change if, unlike historicism with its colonizing agenda and its focus on ancient contexts, we took contemporary global crises, including mass incarceration, a pervasive culture of torture, the HIV pandemic, and the legacies of enslavement, as our starting point for reading biblical texts? Luis Menéndez-Antuña demonstrates how a cultural studies approach that centers twenty-first-century queer existence and experiences of suffering illuminates rather than obscures ancient New Testament contexts. Each chapter weaves together a biblical text, different works of art, and a political crisis. This hermeneutical approach bridges the abyss between the past and present, the Global North and the Global South, biblical scholarship, humanities, and social sciences. Readers coming to the New Testament text with political and ethical concerns will find new emancipatory strategies, making this volume essential reading for scholars and students.

Politics, Emotion and Spirituality Natalia Millán Acevedo, 2025-06-27 This essay invites us to explore the intersection between the political realm and the personal and transcendental dimensions of our lives. Is politics merely a power game separate from being, or is there a profound connection between this politics and our intimate, emotional spaces? Within its pages, we can discover how our political choices and our perception of life are intertwined, revealing that the search for true autonomy involves a journey toward self-awareness and personal healing. This book challenges our conventional perspective on politics by interconnecting spiritual and emotional elements with the management of power and the common good. Ultimately, it offers a deep yet accessible analysis that seeks to harmonize politics with the very essence of our humanity, paving paths that intertwine personal and communal emancipation in the quest for a better world.

Barroco latinoamericano y crisis contemporánea Borja García Ferrer, 2023-08-21 This book aspires to make visible the immanent heterogeneity that constitutes Latin American Baroque within modernity: a space of experience, memory and future in which we can still recognize ourselves in many ways. It aims at exploiting the critical and transformative potential of the Baroque (updated by the prefix neo-) in Latin America, pointing to answers to the civilizational crisis that Western humanity is going through.

Decolonizing the Internationalization of Higher Education in the Global South Kleber Aparecido da Silva, Lauro Sérgio Machado Pereira, 2023-12-22 This book reconceives the internationalization of higher education from the perspective of Global South researchers, empowering and giving visibility to this discourse. Challenging the first assumptions of internationalization of higher education (IHE) as something overwhelmingly positive due to the way it directly impacts the university activities and their world rankings, it instead takes a critical perspective, acknowledging that this process is associated with a neoliberal and colonial orientation that focuses on the maintenance of historically sustained hierarchy, oppressive relations that stimulate the production of knowledge, and education as a commodity and not as a factor of social transformation. As such, it challenges recent trends toward an increase in internationalization strategies within higher education that privilege Global North outgoing mobilities and research collaborations to sustain the position of the educational institutions in the international rankings. From this locus, IHE is seen not only to evolve in the fields of teaching, research, and service of an educational institution but also to boost the world's social development. The book thus illustrates how IHE should be guided by Critical Applied Linguistics (CAL) and Global South's principles: applied linguistics, praxis, critical thinking, micro and macro relations, critical social inquiry, critical theory, problematizing givens, self-reflexivity, preferred futures, and heterosis. Comprising chapters that discuss academic, political, and administrative issues arising specifically from the internationalization process of Global South higher education institutions, as well as themes such as critical language education and language policies, it will appeal to faculty, researchers, and scholars with interests in higher education, international and comparative education, and the decolonization of education.

Gritos, grietas y siembras de nuestros territorios del sur Alicia, Ortega Caicedo, Miriam, Lang, 2020-10-31 Este libro es un trabajo colectivo, de homenaje y reconocimiento al trabajo investigativo, pedagógico y activista de Catherine Walsh. Sus trayectorias han privilegiado el proyecto político, ético y existencial de la interculturalidad crítica y la decolonialidad, cuyos ejes centrales entretejen la geopolítica del conocimiento, las luchas políticas y la praxis social de los pueblos afrodescendientes e indígenas, los pensamientos feministas y las pedagogías alternativas. Cathy es una incansable tejedora de espacios colectivos que abren grietas y siembran semillas. Su tarea ha sido encaminar y acompañar a colectivos, líderes y lideresas que trabajan fuera de la academia. Y su compromiso ha sido ese: pensar "con", nunca sobre o a propósito de otros. El activismo social, la in-disciplina, la desobediencia epistémica, el pensamiento crítico, enraizado en la lucha por la justicia social, contra la violencia y la deshumanización que viven hoy los pueblos y comunidades racializadas en América Latina, definen el caminar de Catherine Walsh. Aquí, quienes caminaron con ella, estudiantes, colegas, intelectuales y militantes latinoamericanos, relatan las dimensiones de la transformación impulsada por ella en los cuerpos, las comunidades y los territorios del pensar.

Manifiesto(s) del (neo)barroco Andrés Luna Jiménez, María José Rossi, Ángel Octavio Álvarez Solís (coord.), Luz Ángela Martínez, 2022-11-18 Manifiesto(s) del (neo)barroco es un conjunto de discursos y escrituras que, desde los bordes de la cultura dominante, busca devorar los cánones occidentales europeos y redefinir las culturas americanas desde su propia concepción.

Hacia un feminismo decolonial. María Lugones, 2024-12-02 Voz y figura fundamental del giro decolonial, la filósofa feminista María Lugones dinamita ese campo señalando al género como un dispositivo estructurante de la colonialidad. Lugones nos muestra que la relación entre género y raza fue y es co-constitutiva, y que la co-articulación de género y raza desde el habitar colonial del mundo ha intentado reducir a los mundos colonizados en objeto, despojado de humanidad. Si por un lado su trabajo afina y corrige las lecturas decoloniales, por otro lado deja en evidencia las pretensiones universalizadoras y eurocéntricas del “feminismo blanco”. Los textos de Lugones estuvieron siempre tejidos desde y con una praxis relacional que excedió los muros universitarios y apostó por las coaliciones. Tejiendo ella misma alianzas y transformaciones de la teoría en la práctica y de la práctica en la teoría, Lugones nos muestra cómo en relación y coalición desaparece la individualidad del yo y se habilita una manera de habitar el mundo sin devastarlo.

El tajo y la ingesta del sentido María José Rossi, David Iruela Toro, 2022-11-19 Hay en el neobarroco nuestroamericano una doble operación, que es la que le da el título a este ensayo. Por un lado, de ingesta ritual, antropofágica, de nuestra tradición europea e indígena, urbana y canyengue, culta y marginal. Ingesta, asimismo, de las estrategias de seducción del barroco, estrategias de deseo. Ingesta, por momentos voraz, de una tradición que no es sólo occidental: los neobarrocos son auténticos apropiadores de elementos de diversos universos culturales, desde mitos precolombinos a Haikou japoneses. Y así como es ingesta y apropiación laboriosa, el neobarroco es operación de desacople de la ideología reaccionaria postridentina. El barroco nuestroamericano se pliega a las luchas de los desheredados de la tierra a través de una escritura plena de lujosos divertimentos pero consciente de los estragos de una emancipación malograda, extraviada, fallida, con lo que el pathos de la rebelión no está perdido. De ahí la necesidad del metal tajante que hunda su filo cuando la urdimbre se vuelva demasiado concesiva o viscosa. La hermenéutica neobarroca nuestroamericana, en su doble carácter de poética y dispositivo lector, es así (antropo)fagia, consumo selectivo. Y es (a)tajo, corte, incisión.

Entramados epistemológicos en Trabajo Social Silvana Martínez, Juan Agüero, Paula Meschini, 2022-02-28 Interpelaciones, problematizaciones y apuestas epistémicas recorren los capítulos desde un sentipensar-hacer situado para la construcción y consolidación de un Trabajo Social feminista, descolonial, intercultural, indisciplinado y emancipador.

Toppling Things as Memorial Contestation, 2025-01-07 Following the murder of George Floyd in 2020, monuments became a focal point: protestors toppled or spray-painted them, even danced on them. These politically, visually, and emotionally potent events may have looked instantaneous, yet frequently sprang from years of activism, as well as protracted political and academic debate. Toppling Things challenges stereotypical notions monument topplings as riotous, spontaneous, or irrational. Bringing together the ideas and emotions, the uncertainty and convictions, of artists, activists, and academics, the volume rejects a neatly tied-up, distant narrative. As it sheds light on the global, personal, immediate, and historical processes around the fall of a monument, the volume engages directly with the complexity of toppling activism and monument removal as a form of lived experience.

Diseño ecosistémico Coral Michelin, 2024-12-06 Prefacio Fabio Scarano A través del rescate de historias y el camino que recorre la humanidad en el campo del diseño, utilizando una visión sistémica, trazada en la Ecología y el pensamiento decolonial, Coral Michelin desarrolla un enfoque innovador y disruptivo Diseño de Ecosistemas, en busca de la regeneración subjetiva y ambiental que necesitamos mucho. El libro está lleno de ejemplos prácticos, referencias, gráficos e ilustraciones. Los principios del Diseño de Ecosistemas se definen a partir de la investigación de diseño teórico y filosófico que llevó a cabo en su cátedra en la Universidad Anhembi-Morumbi.

Cultura, desarrollo y maldesarrollo Pablo Mendes Calado, 2024-01-22 El nuevo libro de Pablo Mendes Calado ofrece una mirada perspicaz a la intersección de la cultura y las políticas públicas. A lo largo de sus ensayos, desafía las concepciones tradicionales sobre cómo las políticas culturales pueden abordar problemas globales desde una perspectiva local en una amplia gama de cuestiones clave de nuestra época, desde la economía, el desarrollo y la ciudadanía hasta el medioambiente y la diversidad. Este libro es esencial para aquellos que buscan una comprensión profunda de cómo la cultura puede moldear nuestro futuro. Nos invita a explorar cómo la cultura puede ser un vehículo para la emancipación social y el cambio hacia un mundo más justo, equitativo y sostenible. Su perspectiva crítica alienta la reflexión sobre la relación entre la teoría y la práctica en la gestión cultural, evitando caer en enfoques automáticos y falaces. Cultura, desarrollo y maldesarrollo es el resultado de casi una década de profunda investigación y reflexión. Nos insta a pensar de manera crítica y a explorar nuevas perspectivas, considerando a la cultura como un motor para las transformaciones que necesitamos para un mundo en constante cambio.

Instalaciones y paisajes azucareros atlánticos (siglos XV-XVII) María del Cristo González Marrero, Jorge Onrubia Pintado, 2023-12-28 Between the 15th and 17th centuries, sugar cultivation and processing, a Mediterranean industry throughout the Middle Ages, experienced what we can aptly describe as the first period of its prosperous Atlantic history. This book explores the material dimension of sugar mills and the landscapes of which they are both cause and effect.

Política, emociones y espiritualidad Natalia Millán Acevedo, 2023-10-30 Este ensayo nos invita a explorar la intersección entre el ámbito político y las dimensiones personales y trascendentales de nuestras vidas. ¿Es la política únicamente un juego de poder separado del ser o, por el contrario, existe una profunda conexión entre esta política y nuestros espacios íntimos y afectivos? Entre sus páginas podemos descubrir cómo nuestras elecciones políticas y nuestra percepción de la vida se entrelazan, revelando que la búsqueda de la verdadera autonomía implica un viaje hacia el autoconocimiento y la sanación personal. Este libro desafía nuestra perspectiva convencional sobre la política interconectando los elementos espirituales y afectivos con la gestión del poder y el bien común. En definitiva, un análisis profundo y accesible que busca armonizar la política con la esencia misma de nuestra humanidad para transitar senderos que imbriquen la emancipación personal y comunitaria en la búsqueda de un mundo mejor.
