web once all of the material has solidified at the time indicated by point c the cooling will continue at a rate determined by the heat capacities of the two solids a and b the composition and of course the geometry of the experimental set up by measuring cooling curves for samples of varying composition one can map the entire phase web heating and cooling curves are graphs they plot a substance s temperature y axis against heat x axis for heating curves we start with a solid and add heat energy for cooling curves we start with the gas phase and remove heat energy cooling and heating curves have five segments let s study each one by looking at heating ice to
