Claves para la definición de un paisaje cultural Desiderio Vaquerizo-Gil, Ana Ruiz-Osuna, Belén Vázquez-Navajas, 2023-07-20 The Guadalquivir River has been a feature of the identities of the communities settled around it throughout history. This book aims to reflect on contemporary threats to the sustainability of the region's complex cultural landscapes from multiple perspectives, including archaeology, the natural environment, didactics, new technologies and tourism.

El patrimonio histórico-arqueológico del municipio de Aroche (Huelva) Nieves Medina Rosales, 2022-01-27 La Arqueología como disciplina científica y la Gestión del Patrimonio como herramienta han evolucionado significativamente en las últimas décadas, generando una nueva relación entre el patrimonio y la sociedad. La gestión debe implicar de forma equilibrada las responsabilidades políticas, institucionales, profesionales y sociales y no debe estar reñida con la rentabilización económica, cultural y social, siempre y cuando los cuatro eslabones de la cadena de valor se desarrollen de forma equilibrada: investigación, protección, conservación y socialización. Esta obra muestra una praxis de gestión integral del patrimonio en un ámbito rural de interior, un municipio de poco más de 3.000 habitantes amenazado por la despoblación y con un amplio patrimonio histórico arqueológico en serio peligro de conservación en 2003, momento en el cual, la administración más cercana, la municipal, decide iniciar el Proyecto Patrimonio, como motor de desarrollo social, cultural y económico, reforzando las señas de identidad colectiva y la relación de la población con su territorio. Tras casi dos décadas de trabajo, el patrimonio de Aroche se ha transformado y ha generado un amplio conocimiento científico que se ha vertido en la sociedad a través de diferentes herramientas y metodologías aplicadas desde la socialización y creando una mayor sensibilización de la población hacia su patrimonio, ahora conservado, creando lazos intangibles entre ambos, y garantizando de alguna forma una mayor protección.

Local Societies and Peasantry Agencies in Medieval Iberia Juan Antonio Quirós Castillo, 2025-01-26 Despite the significant attention medieval scholarship has devoted to the study of peasant societies, these groups have traditionally been depicted as passive and homogeneous, merely able of resisting pressures from the state or powerful individuals. However, in recent years, the availability of new records, the widespread adoption of microhistorical analyses, and the renewal of conceptual frameworks have enabled scholars to undertake more detailed and nuanced investigations. This collective volume aims to explore the political, economic, and social practices of Iberian medieval peasant societies. A key finding of this multivocal analysis is the revelation of the relative subalternity of medieval ruling groups and the constraints on peasant actions across various geographical and chronological contexts.

El futuro del turismo en Andalucía José A. López Sánchez, Serafín Jesús Cruces Montes, 2023-12-26 En este libro, analizamos desde diversas perspectivas el futuro del turismo en Andalucía. Partimos de la premisa de que el turismo se halla en un proceso de adaptación a las nuevas expectativas y tendencias de los viajeros, impulsado, entre otros motivos, por los cambios generados por la pandemia. La seguridad sanitaria se ha convertido en una prioridad clave para los turistas al elegir destinos, y las empresas turísticas implementan medidas de seguridad cada vez más para generar confianza en el sector. En este contexto, el turismo sostenible emerge como un elemento crucial para el desarrollo futuro del turismo, ya que la pandemia ha aumentado la conciencia sobre el impacto ambiental y social del turismo, generando una mayor demanda en esta dirección. En este sentido, se evidencia que la tecnología continuará desempeñando un papel fundamental en el turismo, con la digitalización acelerada del sector. La inversión en tecnologías innovadoras será esencial para ofrecer experiencias de viaje seguras y atractivas, y las administraciones públicas deben liderar este proceso. La accesibilidad y la digitalización, así como los diferentes nichos de turismo, como el cultural (industrial, patrimonial, etc.), el rural y el de montaña, entre otros, se presentan como cruciales para Andalucía. Estos pueden actuar como motor económico local, diversificar la oferta y apoyar las estrategias de desestacionalización. En este sentido, son cada vez más necesarios estudios sobre la valoración que los turistas tienen del factor social y su influencia en la recomendación y fidelización sobre el destino andaluz. Igualmente, la formación de profesionales es crucial para la planificación y gestión sostenible y para abordar las nuevas tendencias emergentes en el ámbito turístico andaluz. Esto, además, potenciará la innovación en el sector turístico, presentándose como una oportunidad para diferenciar a Andalucía de otros destinos competidores. Sin embargo, desafíos como la urgencia climática y energética plantean preocupaciones a corto y largo plazo para el turismo andaluz. En los próximos lustros se prevé un cambio considerable en el turismo a nivel mundial y, por ende, en el andaluz debido a los fenómenos climáticos, con competencia creciente de destinos más al norte. En este sentido, la adaptación a la nueva realidad climática, la promoción del turismo de proximidad y la diversificación de mercados son esenciales para la supervivencia del sector a largo plazo. En este libro, se realiza un ejercicio de reflexión colectiva por varios académicos donde se replantea el modelo turístico actual que es incompatible con los escenarios de cambio climático que se predicen y se indagan nuevos equilibrios que no dependan exclusivamente del aumento de turistas.

The Archaeology of Peasantry in Roman Spain Jesús Bermejo Tirado, Ignasi Grau Mira, 2022-01-19 This volume aims to present an updated portrait of the Roman countryside in Roman Spain by the comparison of different theoretical orientations and methodological strategies including the discussion of textual and iconographic sources and the analysis of the faunal remains. The archaeology of rural areas of the Roman world has traditionally been focused on the study of villae, both as an architectural model of Roman otium and as the central core of an economic system based on the extensive agricultural exploitation of latifundia. The assimilation of most rural settlements in provincial areas of the Roman Empire with the villa model implies the acceptance of specific ideas, such as the generalization of the slave mode of production, the rupture of the productive capacity of Late Iron Age communities, or the reduction in importance of free peasant labor in the Roman economy of most rural areas. However, in recent decades, as a consequence of the generalized extension of preventive or emergency archaeology and survey projects in most areas of the ancient territories of the Roman Empire, this traditional conception of the Roman countryside articulated around monumental villae is undergoing a thorough revision. New research projects are changing our current perception of the countryside of most parts of the Roman provincial world by assessing the importance of different types of rural settlements. In the last years, we have witnessed the publication of archaeological reports on the excavation of thousands of small rural sites, farms, farmsteads, enclosures, rural agglomerations of diverse nature, etc. One of the main consequences of all this research activity is a vigorous discussion of the paradigm of the slave mode of production as the basis of Roman rural economies in many provincial areas. A similar change in the paradigm is taking place, with some delay, in the archaeology of Roman Spain. After decades of preventive/emergency interventions there is a considerable quantity of unpublished data on this kind of rural settlements. However, unlike the cases of Roman Britain or Gallia Comata, no synthesis or national projects are undertaking the task of systematizing all these data. With the intention of addressing this current situation the present volume discusses the results and methodological strategies of different projects studying peasant settlements in several regions of Roman Spain.
