in different times-at different times - WordReference Forums Jan 26, 2011 · In several different scenes in the film, we see the eponymous characters at different stages of their marriage. If I wish to use the word "time" to talk about how the film is set, does the following sentence make sense? These scenes are set at different times of their marriage: some good, and others bad. Thank you as always, everyone! different with / different from - WordReference Forums Jun 30, 2011 · It may be different (with/from) each family, but there are similarities. How would you describe the difference between "different with" and "different from" in the given sentence? a different person/ two different people - WordReference Forums May 14, 2015 · Actually what I wanted to say was "just because they both wear glasses doesn't mean they look like two different people", does that make sense? Not really. Your sentence seems to imply that two people who wear glasses would automatically look like two different people, which seems to be the opposite of what someone would normally assume. differing vs different - WordReference Forums May 22, 2008 · "There have been widely differing versions in the newspapers about the prison siege." Why not use "different" here? Both are right? If right, same meaning? There is quite a bit of good and accurate information to be found there, as well as a bunch of inaccurate information. In my daughter high school they are not allowed to use anything "Wiki" as a valid source for research information because most ... FR: différent - place de l'adjectif | WordReference Forums Aug 31, 2007 · Hi, I understand that the adjective 'différent' can be used before and after the noun in French. Can somebody explain to me what the difference in meaning is? Thanks Moderator note: Multiple threads have been merged to create this one. Pronunciation of "o", "ó" and "ô" | WordReference Forums Mar 28, 2010 · I know, for example, that avó and avô mean different things and are pronounced differently, but the spelling clearly marks this distinction in these words, while in the words from your examples, there's nothing obvious at first glance and I think there're no other words to confuse p*rt@ (s) and *vo (s) with due to a different pronunciation of o. "Cure date" vs "expiration date" | WordReference Forums Mar 25, 2008 · Dear all, I work in the aeronautic field, and lately I start dealing with official "certificates" that are attached to aeronautic parts in order to attest their conformity. These documents sometimes contain a "cure date", here in France I heard it translated as an "expiration date", but I have... FR/EN: guillemets (« ») / quotation marks (" ") - usage & punctuation Oct 16, 2015 · The main usage of quotation marks is the same in both languages: quoting or emphasizing words or phrases. The typography rules are however a bit different. When using French guillemets, you should add an (ideally thin) non-breaking space on either side of the quoted text (e.g., « Bonjour ! »), whereas no spaces are used with English quotation marks ...
