El bienestar animal previo al proceso de faenamiento de bovinos en mataderos de las provincias de Azuay y Cañar, Ecuador Gonzalo Eduardo López Crespo, J. Gallardo, Dirección de Investigación de la Universidad de Cuenca, DIUC, 2015 A lo largo del siglo XX se han ido consolidando conceptos relacionados al bienestar animal. En el caso de animales que serán sacrificados para su consumo y con el objetivo de disminuir al mínimo los niveles de afectación de los mismos en este proceso, es importante conocer su conducta y valorar las prácticas de manejo. La cadena de producción de carne bovina comienza en la finca e incluye posteriormente el transporte y el posterior sacrificio de los animales en el matadero (Grandin, 1994). Fuera del punto de vista del confort animal propiamente dicho, la industria debe proveer productos cárnicos de calidad a los consumidores para lo cual hay que partir de un adecuado bienestar animal antes del sacrificio ya que ello va a repercutir positivamente sobre la calidad final de la carne. Las condiciones adversas pueden superar el umbral de estrés lo que va a afectar significativamente los parámetros de calidad de la carne (Mateus et al., 2012). El bienestar del ganado bovino en Ecuador debe de preservarse y respetarse según las normas tanto en las etapas previas al sacrificio como en esa etapa tanto en los aspectos físicos como fisiológicos. El objetivo de este estudio fue determinar el cumplimiento de las normas de bienestar animal en mataderos de las provincias de Azuay y Cañar.

Una creencia puede cambiarlo todo Cora Panizza, 2023-12-13 ¿Qué nos diferencia a los seres humanos de otros animales? ¿Somos tan especiales como nos han contado? ¿En qué nos basamos para creer que somos superiores a otras especies? En este ensayo descubrirás las posibles respuestas a estas preguntas desde una perspectiva psicológica, donde se enfatiza que la imagen de «ser humano» que hemos construido está basada en una imagen contrapuesta de lo que creemos que son los animales. En la exploración de estos fenómenos mentales y de las interacciones de nuestra especie con otros animales, la autora formula una hipótesis genuina, que ha bautizado como «LICE», para ofrecer una posible explicación de los motivos que en última instancia nos llevan a discriminar a otras especies. Este libro amplificará tus ideas acerca de qué significa ser humano y qué significa ser animal. Además, la autora enriquece su pasión por la ciencia con historias personales y reflexiones profundas acerca de la vida y los sentimientos humanos que van más allá de lo mensurable.

Prácticas de manejo y bienestar animal en la producción de ganado bovino de carne en Sur América Jaime Andrés Ordoñez Valencia, Luis Alberto Caicedo Candela, 2016 Resumen: El bienestar animal es el estado del individuo con respecto a sus tentativas por adaptarse al medio externo. En animales de producción el medio externo es impuesto por los ciclos productivos, instalaciones y manejo dado a los animales. La producción bovina de carne en Sur América es en general una de las actividades pecuarias que más vulnera el bienestar de los animales, dados algunos tratos que se han perpetuado en el quehacer de esta producción, como son los procedimientos quirúrgicos de tipo castración entre otros, sin sedación ni anestésicos, el arreo con perros y elementos contundentes e incluso eléctricos, y los procesos de embarque transporte y desembarque de manera cruenta y en altas densidades. Estas prácticas generan miedo y promueven el estado de estrés constante en los animales, lo que genera mayores dificultades en la logística operativa de la producción ganadera de carne, además de causar alteraciones directas sobre la salud de los animales y la calidad de la carne. El propósito de este trabajo es recopilar y presentar de manera clara y ordenada información actual sobre buenas prácticas de manejo en producción bovina de carne en Sur América y su importancia para garantizar altos niveles de bienestar animal, puesto que ambos aspectos juegan un papel importante al garantizar el adecuado crecimiento, desarrollo y productividad de los animales, además de traer consigo productos cárnicos de mayor calidad y valor económico. Se espera que esta monografía marque el inicio de nuevos estudios al respecto de estos temas en nuestra región e incentive a estudiantes de ciencias pecuarias, productores y consumidores a conocer las nuevas legislaciones nacionales vigentes sobre bienestar animal en la producción bovina de carne y con esto implementar buenas prácticas de manejo que garanticen alto grado de bienestar animal durante el ciclo productivo en ganado de carne en nuestro país, generando así animales en mejores condiciones de vida, procesos productivos.

La Interaccion Hombre-Animal Como Indicador de Bienestar Bovino Cobo-Angel Claudia,2015-05-13 El presente trabajo es producto de la tesis de maestria de la autora, la cual tuvo como objetivo evaluar la interaccion hombre-animal durante el descargue y la conduccion en una planta de sacrificio colombiana, asi como su relacion con indicadores fisiologicos de estres, la presencia de contusiones, el pH de la carne 24 horas postsacrificio y la actitud de los manejadores de ganado. Los resultados indicaron que la conduccion hacia el cajon de insensibilizacion fue mas estresante para los animales que el descargue. Asimismo, se evidencio que las interacciones mas utilizadas para el manejo de los bovinos como la aplicacion del tabano electrico y la emision de sonidos artificiales, se relacionan con signos de estres, contusiones y la presencia de carne de menor calidad. Finalmente, se plantean una serie de recomendaciones basadas en la investigacion para mejorar el bienestar animal de los bovinos en las plantas de sacrificio.
