Love Quotes by ImMortal1105 Amar Kumar Gupta, 2019-09-26 Love ... what an amazing feeling. Everyone out there starve for love, knows love and want love but very few of them actually knows how to be in love for forever. On one hand, today's youth fall in love so passionately and so quickly that they have no idea. On the other hand, they get separated with the same pace ridiculously. My collection of quotes will give some glimpse of journey of today's relationship from perfection to separation. Its not a big deal to maintain the same passion in relationship throughout the life. But today's youth give more importance to their ego and

Time, Love & Dumbshit Vamshi Chaithanya Vuppala,2025-05-22 A guy, lost in himself, ready to give up- until someone pulls him back. A girl, a wild ride, and a truth so raw, it's almost sexy af. What are they? Time's about to tell, sometimes false, mostly truth! This isn't just a rom-com love story. This is a story about fate screwing people over, about time bending in ways it shouldn't, about love that's complicated and messy. One second, you're caught in the warmth of romance, and the next, you're knee-deep in scams, gangsters, and betrayals that hit like a sucker punch. There's tragedy. There's mystery. There's the kind of heartbreak that lingers. And through it all, there's the question-can you really change destiny, or does it always come back for you? What if the past isn't as it seems? What if the future is already written? And what if love itself is the biggest lie of all? HALF WAY STOP STORY IT IS' TL;DR: A boy, lost in himself. A love story that shouldn't have happened. This isn't a fairy tale. It's messy, painful, dumb, and real. If you've ever been the one who cared too much — this one's for you. Read Time, Love & Dumbshit — Part 1 of a story that'll live in your head rent-free.

Love in the Time of Ethnography Lucinda Carspecken, 2017-11-15 Love in the Time of Ethnography explores love – variously defined – as an important facet of human life and a worthy focus of study. The authors look at love in association with an Alevi and Sunni couple in Turkey, organizers of Mexican American and immigrant youth movements, Christian missionaries in China, an elderly man with dementia, two women “coming home” to queer identity, a White researcher working with Black women in the US, the common ground between Dogen's Zen teachings and Habermas's critical theory, an Albanian Sufi community in Michigan and interactions between humans and the natural world. It also includes theoretical writing on the place of love in social analysis, whether this involves relationships between researchers and participants or the nature of human connection itself. The authors argue that social research is an affective process as well as a cognitive one, and that fellow feeling is an essential component of making sense of the world. Along with more traditional scholarly forms, the contributors to this book use auto-ethnography, life stories, archival research and poetry, noting that style itself conveys information and emotion. Writing is always to some extent partisan. While anthropologists and other social researchers have explored this idea over the last few decades, they have more often explored it with an eye to critique than to the ideals underlying that critique. This is a collection of essays about what ethnographers are aiming for as well as the problems they address, and the authors discuss ethical principles like agape, hizmet and cariño as rationales for ethnography and rationales for social change.

Love in a Time of Fear Cassie J. E. H. Trentaz, 2018-08-29 How do we love people who we are afraid of? The political climate of the US in recent years has revealed significant divisions in our nation and our neighborhoods, divisions often fueled by fear. For those who follow a call and commitment to love our neighbors, how do we love in the midst of this fear? In this book, Cassie Trentaz looks that question in the eyes and asks her friends and neighbors in four communities currently facing pressure and often viewed with suspicion--immigrants, Muslim Americans, LGBTQ+ people, and young African American men--what feels like love to them and, alternatively, what does not. Trentaz brings their honest, heartfelt responses in their own words, helping us to know people we might not know and bringing us powerful stories of offerings of love that were received as love as well as stories of good intentions that missed their mark. She then offers us tools to help us act on what we hear. This book is both an invitation and a toolbox for listening. It takes love from a good idea to a concrete force that can speak to our fears, reach across divisions, and just might heal our world.

Texting Faith, Hope, and Love JoAnn Willoughby Hays, 2023-05-22 I started writing down favorite scriptures, quotes, and sayings in fifth or sixth grade. I taught children's Bible classes for 42 years and public school classes for 29 years and I always found a way to use many of the quotes and sayings in all my classes. I still get excited when I see a great quote in a book or magazine, or even on a T-shirt. I have four grandchildren I adore, and I don't get to see them as often as I did when they were children, or during the pandemic. Cale is a graduate of Oklahoma Christian University and is busy with his career. Mackenzie will be a senior at the University of Oklahoma. Tate is a newlywed and is attending the Oklahoma State University's Fire Academy to become a firefighter, and our youngest, Danny, is a 6'4 basketball player who will be a junior at Edmond Memorial High School. I found a quote a few years ago from the gymnast, Gabby Douglas. She said, By now, you've probably caught on to something: my mother is always standing by with just the right scripture or inspirational saying to get me through any tough situation. I was so blessed to have my grandchildren living in the same town when they were growing up and all four of them were in my sixth grade Sunday school class. I think all of us who are grandmothers want to be like Timothy's grandmother, Lois. I read Gabby's quote and realized how important that was to her. I can't stand by my grandchildren, but I thought I can text scriptures and quotes to them. Also, Corrie ten Boom's book, The Hiding Place came out when my girls were babies. I read it during their nap times. I also watched as many of her interviews as I could. She and her family were Christians in Holland and hid hundreds of Jews being smuggled to safety in a secret hiding place in their combination home and watch and clock repair store. Her entire family was caught by the Nazis and sent to concentration camps. They weren't allowed Bibles, so they taught people using the scriptures they had memorized. I heard her tell a story of finding a broken piece of pencil and writing scriptures down on little scraps of paper and giving them to people to give them hope. That inspired me to memorize more scriptures, so I could always have a Bible close to me. I started texting scriptures and different quotes to my grandkids group once or twice a week. I prayed that this would keep them in the Word and remind them their words and actions need to glorify God. One night I needed to send a new text and it took me about thirty minutes to write one and send it. I remember thinking I wish I could go online or go to Mardel's store to find a book that had the type of devotionals I wanted. My next thought was why don't I write one. I'm retired and I already have over thirty devotionals finished. I could just add about a hundred more and I would have a book of devotionals. I said a prayer and started compiling my devotion lesson plan book the next day.

Gabriella's quest to find out if she's saved leads her on a journey to find out who God really is. With her best friends by her side and making a few new ones along the way, she discovers that God is so much more than the box that she had put Him in. She truly learns to understand the words, Not my will be done but Yours.

Melancholy, Love, and Time Peter G. Toohey, 2010-03-11 Ancient literature features many powerful narratives of madness, depression, melancholy, lovesickness, simple boredom, and the effects of such psychological states upon individual sufferers. Peter Toohey turns his attention to representations of these emotional states in the Classical, Hellenistic, and especially the Roman imperial periods in a study that illuminates the cultural and aesthetic significance of this emotionally charged literature. His probing analysis shows that a shifting representation of these afflicted states, and the concomitant sense of isolation from one's social affinities and surroundings, manifests a developing sense of the self and self-consciousness in the ancient world. This book makes important contributions to a variety of disciplines including classical studies, comparative literature, literary and art history, history of medicine, history of emotions, psychiatry, and psychology. Peter Toohey is Professor and Department Head of Greek and Roman Studies at the University of Calgary, Canada.
