For example, the head of the noun phrase "boiling hot water" is the noun (head noun) "water". Analogously, the head of a compound is the stem that determines the semantic category of that compound. English grammar - Wikipedia For example, my very good friend Peter is a phrase that can be used in a sentence as if it were a noun, and is therefore called a noun phrase. Similarly, adjectival phrases and adverbial phrases function as if they were adjectives or adverbs, but with other types of phrases, the terminology has different implications. Adjective phrase - Wikipedia The adjective phrases are underlined in the following example sentences. The head adjective in each of these phrases is in bold, and how the adjective phrase is functioning—attributively or predicatively—is stated to the right of each example: [1] Glossary of literary terms - Wikipedia adjective Any word or phrase which modifies a noun or pronoun, grammatically added to describe, identify, or quantify the related noun or pronoun.
